Council Adopts Schools' Budget; Tax Rate Highest

Council Reverses Itself in Setting Approval on Estimates for Coming Year

The highest school tax—$17.64 per thousand valuation—in the recorded history of Kingston was established Monday night when the Common Council unanimously adopted the budget which the Board of Education had refused to cut in order to come within the charter limitation of one per cent on the taxable real estate.

At the council meeting on July 2, the aldermen voted unanimously to return the budget to the education board, since it exceeded the one per cent limitation by $182,338.32, with the request that the board revise it to bring it within the tax limitation.

The education board at a special meeting Monday afternoon voted unanimously to sustain the budget as submitted.

Under the charter provisions, if the education board by a two-thirds vote agrees to sustain the budget as originally submitted, it shall stand as if it had been approved by the mayor and the Common Council.

The resolution adopting the budget was introduced last night by Alderman Thomas Coughlin and seconded by Alderman Peter Simpson.

Alderman Zucca before the resolution was put to a vote said that the one per cent limitation did not mean anything it might just as well be taken out of the city charter.

The members of the Board of Education who voted unanimously to sustain the budget as prepared by Bernard A. Feeney, Charles Katz, Andrew J. Cook, Eugene H. Fowler, William F. Leech, Dr. Frederic Holcomb, Charles de la Vergne and George Matthews.

Request Zoning Change
George N. Shively, vice president of Old Capital Motors, Inc., of central Broadway, sent in a communication read at the meeting in which he called attention to the fact that he had presented a petition to the aldermen at the April meeting requesting a change in the zoning law on Albany avenue so that the concern could erect a modern building.

"It is my understanding," he wrote, "that the petition was referred to the laws and rules committee." He urged that some action be taken on the petition as the concern had made in mandating that the company erect a new building as the present facilities are inadequate.

"If some action is not taken," he wrote Mr. Shively "it will be necessary for us to build beyond the city line. This is a step we do not wish to take."

The communication was referred to the laws and rules committee.

Lustig Is Sentenced
New York, July 10 (AP)—Henry Lustig, president of the Long Island Restaurant chain, was sentenced to Federal Court today to a term of one year on charges of racketeering.

Lustig, 42, was sentenced to a term of two years on charges of racketeering and a co-defendant, Joseph Sobel, chief Longchamps restaurant and third defendant, was sentenced to two years. There were no fines in their cases.

Will Hold Conference
Washington, July 10 (AP)—President Truman will hold his weekly press conference at the White House at 4 p. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow.

Big 4 May Adjourn by End of Week

Final Peace Treaties' Drafts Will Be Ready Then for Five Countries

Clash Is Reported

Molotov and Byrnes Have Bout Over German Question

Paris, July 10 (AP)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers, although still enmeshed in a bitter debate on the future of Germany, bent their efforts today toward final adjournment by this week-end.

The ministers ordered their deputies to have ready by Saturday the final drafts of peace treaties with Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland. Diplomatic sources said this meant the Council might approve the treaties Saturday afternoon and adjourn either at that time or on Sunday.

The Council, which yesterday heard another sharp clash between Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov—this time on the German question—was called into session this afternoon to resume on the Reich. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was expected to urge, with United States support, that some sort of federalization be provided for Germany, which now is divided into four occupation zones. France was believed ready to back the other western powers in this proposal, but the attitude of Russia remained a big question mark.

The clash between Byrnes and Molotov occurred when the American urged adoption of his proposed treaty to guarantee disarmament of Germany for 25 years.

Says Pact 'Inadequate'

Molotov described the suggested pact as "wholly inadequate" and asserted it did not insure against the rebirth of militarism in Germany.

Byrnes countered with a accusation that Russia had violated the Potsdam Agreement by making excessive levies against German industry.

Byrnes asked that special deputies be named now to study the German problem and to report back to the ministers at their next meeting, presumably next autumn. No immediate action was taken, however.

Other developments yesterday included:

The Ministers asked the United Nations to postpone its next meeting to the General Assembly in New York from September 3 to September 23, to allow diplomats time to prepare for the meeting.

Business Concerns Must Save Records For O.P.A. Scrutiny

A warning that all business concerns must preserve until July 1, 1947, for examination by the O.P.A. records, reports and sales accounts was issued yesterday by Lester W. Herzog, director of the 16-county Albany district which includes Ulster county.

(In Kingston meanwhile, members of the Price Control Panel of the local Rationing Board held their regular weekly meeting yesterday to review price violations committed before the expiration of O.P.A. price regulations.)

Although the panel in effect is conducting lame-duck sessions, Chairman George E. Terry, Jr., said that under statutes all violations reported before O.P.A. expired are subject to prosecution.

Herzog's warning came as Albany O.P.A. office began the search to wipe out.

Automatic Guns Are Neutralized; To Hold Exhibit

Weapons Will Be Made Unserviceable; Has No Effect on Souvenir Values

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has begun an intensive drive to render unserviceable all machine guns and similar automatic weapons brought into the state by servicemen as souvenirs.

A display of war souvenir weapons made harmless will be given at the Ulster county court house on July 11, 12 and 13 at which time Sheriff Smith, Police Chief Boss and an officer of the Alcoholic Tax Unit will be present to show how this can be done.

Walter F. Carroll, investigator in charge of the Revenue Bureau's alcoholic tax unit which has been given the task of having the guns rendered and made safe, announced today the exhibit which will be held here next week. The drive, part of a nation-wide campaign, is being made to lessen the possibility of a crime wave here similar to violence in New York.

All machine guns must be registered under the National Firearms Act and only certain law-enforcement officers are permitted to have same.

Failure to surrender the weapons may result in fines up to $2,000 and five years in prison for each violation of the act, Carroll said. Owners of souvenir firearms, he explained, will not be made liable to the penalties as a result of voluntary turning in of the guns.

The guns will be returned after being made unserviceable and in most cases this consists of removing the firing pin and blocking the barrel. In no case will the souvenir value of the weapon be damaged, Carroll said.

1,000 Are Registered

The unit has already registered and made safe about 1,000 German and Japanese automatic weapons. Most of the weapons were turned in at the unit's headquarters, 641 Washington street, New York.

Guns are also picked up by investigators working under H. D. Brink, Alcoholic Tax Unit, Room 4, Postoffice building, Newburgh.

Before last May servicemen could bring captured enemy equipment into the country as war trophies providing they had the written permission of their commanding officers. This was stopped when it was found that some of the so-called war trophies had fallen into the hands of criminals.

This unknown but estimated large number of firearms in the hands of our citizens has created a pressing problem," Carroll said. "Lethal weapons brought home as

Sidney Hillman Is Heart Victim

C.I.O.-P.A.C. Figure Dies at Point Lookout, Aged 59 Years

Point Lookout, N. Y., July 10 (AP)—Sidney Hillman, 59, one-time immigrant boy and garment cutter who became one of the most controversial political figures of his time, died today.

It was Hillman, national chairman of the C.I.O. Political Action Committee, who became a political storm center in the 1944 presidential campaign when the Republican charge of "clear everything with Sidney" swept the country.

Republicans charged—and Democrats and Hillman denied—that the late President Roosevelt, passing through Chicago during the 1944 Democratic National Convention, told Robert Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, "clear everything with Sidney" regarding convention strategy and choices.

Hillman's death came of a heart condition at 8:40 a. m. (E.D.T.) in a bedroom of his six-room summer bungalow on the south shore of Long Island near Long Beach.

The story that made the rounds in the 1944 campaign was based on a conference between Hannegan and Mr. Roosevelt as the latter's train lay on a railroad siding in Chicago prior to the opening of the convention.

The "clear everything with Sidney" phrase became so current that Hannegan issued a formal denial at a news conference in Chicago in September of that year.

"The fact is that President Roosevelt with whom I conferred alone on that occasion, did not say that," Hannegan said. "Nor did he say anything else that could have been construed to convey that meaning. The story is absolutely untrue."

Hannegan said he talked with Hillman only once during the convention, in Hannegan's room, and the only statement Hillman made was that he was "for" Vice President Henry A. Wallace for re-nomination. Hannegan said he was not won the nomination and became president on Mr. Roosevelt's death.

Grunewald Says He Has Asked Assistance; Mead Sends Telegram

The bread situation is growing more acute daily and last night the Grunewald Bakery on Hasbrouck avenue was forced to close when its supply of flour was exhausted.

Other bakeries in the city will also be forced to shut down shortly unless supplies of flour reach the city shortly.

The Grunewald Bakery is the fifth in the city forced to suspend operations. The others are Schwenk's on Foxhall avenue, Mrs. Salzman's Bakery on Abel street, Friedel's on Delaware avenue, and Peterman's on Cedar street.

Charles Grunewald, proprietor of the Grunewald Bakery, said today that he had taken up the matter with Mayor W. F. Edelmuth, and also with Albert Kurtz of the Ulster County Farm Bureau urging them to use what influence they had to obtain shipments of flour for the local bakers. Both men assured him they would do all that they could to assist.

Newspapers Find Few Price Boosts With O.P.A. Dead

Meat, Dairy Products Are Higher but Supply Is Becoming Plentiful

New York, July 10 (AP)—Newspapers, taking a post-O.P.A. look at the overall price picture and prospects in leading cities of the nation, today found a general "hold the line" attitude despite sharp boosts in some instances and continuing scarcities in a few lines.

In general, they said meat and dairy products prices were up substantially, with supplies of the former increasing. Some points, where meat counters remained relatively bare, thought there would be enough to satisfy demands within a few days.

A number of newspapers found that meat and dairy prices did not more than offset the loss of government subsidies. Other lines of consumer goods were reported stable but there was a question as to whether prices would go up when present inventories are exhausted.

U. N. May Alter Its Plans For Assembly in September

New York, July 10 (AP)—The United Nations secretariat was confronted today with the probable necessity of reshuffling its manifold arrangements for the general assembly meeting here in September to avoid a conflict in dates with the Paris peace conference.

The Big Four foreign ministers in Paris decided yesterday to ask the U. N. to postpone the assembly session from September 3 to September 23 because of the probability that the peace conference will be in session on the earlier date.

The shift would involve a rearrangement of living quarters for some 2,000 persons, a problem complicated by the acute housing shortage and the fact that October is one of the two busiest convention months in New York.

It also would disrupt the timing of Security Council actions, such as the deadline for receipt and consideration of new membership applications, which had been pegged on the assumption that the assembly would meet September 3.

Extraordinary procedures will have to be adopted to permit a postponement, a United Nations (Continued on Page Two)

Letter to Tom Clark Is Made Public at Committee Hearing in Washington

Patterson Testifies

Secretary of War Says May Complain in Behalf of Firm

By JOHN W. HENDERSON

Washington, July 10 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Kenneth Royall disclosed today that he had asked the Justice Department for a complete investigation of an "overpayment" of more than $1,000,000 received by Batavia Metal Products Company on a war contract.

He told the Senate war investigating committee, digging into the operations of an Illinois munitions combine, that he also had asked Attorney General Tom Clark to inquire into the earnings and costs of Eric Basin Metal Products Company, an affiliate of Batavia.

In a letter to Clark which he made public at the committee hearing, Royall said that he understood that the Justice Department even then was inquiring into the tax affairs of the two companies.

Royall's disclosure came after he had testified earlier that Rep. May (D-Ky.), chairman of the House military committee, had attributed to him responsibility for an investigation of the Kentucky congressman's relations with Eric Basin.

Officer Gave Report

Royall told the committee that he first learned of the "overpayment" at Batavia during May's testimony.

Through a report from his executive officer, Royall said that he had asked for a complete report on the activities of all persons connected with the overpayment. He said that he had not as yet received that full report, but that he expected it within a day or two.

Meanwhile, he said he had received a preliminary report. Using that as the basis for his testimony, he told the committee that Batavia had received an advance of $450,000 in May of 1945 on a contract for construction of bomb components.

In his letter to Clark, the undersecretary wrote that there was doubt that the company was in "such a financial condition" that it could make good on the overpayment he mentioned.

He testified that what he called the original $450,000 "overpayment" was reduced from time to time as Batavia made deliveries on its contract.

Company officials may be called to testify soon.

George Meader, committee counsel told reporters there was a "possibility" that Dr. Henry Garsson, central figure in what Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) has described as a "paper empire," would take the stand before the end of the day.

The assertion that the committee had not permitted one side of the story to be told was made late yesterday by Henry M. Paynter, Washington public relations counsel, who said spokesmen for the Garsson interests "told you most of the story in star chamber proceedings and you suppressed it as you and Congressman May's testimony."

He referred to Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Committee who has been pictured as having brought pressure to bear on War Department officials in behalf of the Illinois munitions makers.

Mead Replies

Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) replied that witnesses for the Garsson group would have appeared earlier except that their attorney had requested a postponement.

"There is no Gestapo in this committee and there is no suppression of information in this committee," Mead declared. This interchange occurred near the end of a day in which the committee heard testimony from War Department officials who described while he was undersecretary.

Garment Workers Agent Is Killed In Cafe Holdup

Patrolman, Ex-Soldier Are Wounded in Chase; Two Captured, One Is at Large

New York, July 10 (AP)—One man was shot to death and four others, including a patrolman and a former army sergeant, were wounded early today in gunfire which followed an attempted holdup at a Madison cafe.

Police identified the dead man as Solly Moss, of the Bronx, business agent for Local 10 of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union (A.F.L.). Officers said he was shot when he inadvertently interfered with a trio of hold-up men who entered the cafe, on West 47th street, shortly before 3 a. m.

Moss, one of a dozen patrons in the cafe at the time, was said to have brushed one of the men in turning around as they advanced toward the bar.

The patrolman, Arthur Green, and the former army sergeant, John Healy, 30, of New York, were shot during a pursuit of the robbers, who fled after shooting Moss. Two of the trio were wounded and captured, while the third escaped.

All four of the wounded men were reported in serious condition. The patrolman received a bullet wound in the shoulder and Healy was shot in the side. One of the robbers was hit in the lower back and the other was struck in the shoulder.

Several hundred persons lined the streets as the gunfire took place.

Police said the holdup men forced a cab driver to take them away from the cafe and that Green and another patrolman, Thomas Colgan, pursued in a patrol car after noting the confusion.

They forced the cab to the curb a short distance away and an exchange of shots ensued.

Healy, who had joined the chase in his own car with a third patrolman, Louis Fields, on the running board, jumped out to assist the officers and was struck by a bullet.

The third holdup man escaped by fleeing as the patrol car brought the taxi to a halt.

call, had police rush an oxygen tent to the bedside. Hillman failed to rally and died shortly thereafter.

The small, frail Hillman came here with his family June 1. They had made their summer home at Point Lookout for the past 14 years.

Three weeks ago he suffered an attack of coronary thrombosis and since then had been resting and trying to regain his strength.

Dr. Mack Lipkin, the family physician, arrived shortly after Hillman's death. The doctor said he had been treating Hillman for a heart condition for some time.

At the bedside when he died were his wife, the former Miss Bessie Abramowitz, whom he married in 1916; a daughter, Mrs. Selma Lerner; his son-in-law, Irving Lerner; and granddaughter, Dorothy Lerner.

Although Hillman was president of the large and wealthy Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, he was best known in labor circles for his direction of the C.I.O.-P.A.C.

His death left no immediate heir-apparent to the chairmanship. A successor likely will be chosen at a meeting of the C.I.O.-P.A.C.'s executive committee in Washington next week.

Hillman had three assistants, all vice chairmen of the C.I.O.-P.A.C. They are Tilford E. Dudley, a former official of the United Packinghouse Workers of America; Thomas Burns, a member of the executive board of the United Rubber Workers; and Jack Kroil, vice president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Born in Zagare, Lithuania, Hillman came to the United States in 1907 and went to work as a cutter in the garment industry.

He became interested in the labor union movement and his activity as a leader throughout the years which followed caused him to be regarded by workers and management alike as one of the most powerful, competent and brilliant of all.

In 1914, as a member of the old United Garment Workers Union, he led the revolt against the leadership of Thomas F. Rickert, formed the Amalgamated and won for the new union a liberal agreement with a Chicago's men's clothing manufacturer.

Hillman, married and the father of two daughters, once said he regarded the strike as a weapon of the jungles.

"But as long as we are living in an economic and social jungle we must resort to it," he said. "The civilized method is arbitration, not the strike."

The labor leader, a small, dark man with white glasses, remained amiable despite the criticism often leveled at his activities—particularly that connected with the Political Action Committee—and the name-calling in which his foes indulged.

He defended himself against those who made a target of his political beliefs.

"The Communists have fought me bitterly for over 10 years," he said in an interview a few years ago. "They have called me many names, uncompromising names. I am opposed to Communism and I am opposed to Fascism."

Believes in "Democracy"

Professing himself a believer in "democratic processes," Hillman said he felt that "they must be introduced into our industrial life if we are to salvage them from all the attacks they have undergone."

The democratic way is the only way to give the worker happiness."

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers was an independent union until 1933, when it joined the A.F.L. However, three years later it became affiliated with the C.I.O.

The union now has a membership of over 30,000.

Despite his success, Hillman continued to live modestly. As Amalgamated president he received $15,000 a year. From the P.A.C. he received $1,000. His first job as a garment cutter brought him $8 a week.

The son of a small merchant in Lithuania, Hillman as a boy studied for the rabbinate because almost all the men in his family were rabbis. But he broke with his family over orthodoxy and at 15 went to a larger city, Novno.

There he worked in a chemical laboratory for a living and at night studied economics. Even during these days he took an interest in the burgeoning labor movement—he once paraded with students for a 10-hour day for workers, a demonstration which brought the police and landed him in jail for eight months.

When he got out he went to England but stayed there only eight months before heading for the United States.

Though he helped organize the steel, automobile and other industries Hillman's most notable work was in the textile field.

He reached the first national collective bargaining agreement in the men's clothing industry with a contract signed in 1937.

State Workers Are Placed in Various Sections

Albany, N. Y., July 10 (AP)—State representatives have been ordered into all O.P.A. areas and district rent control offices to assist in the administration and enforcement of New York residential rent regulations.

Governor Dewey yesterday directed the assignment "on loan" of 40 employees from various state departments to O.P.A. offices as liaison representatives for Joseph D. McGoldrick, New York rent control commissioner.

The state personnel will act for McGoldrick in administrative activities and submit to district attorneys complaints and alleged violations of the state law which continued O.P.A. residential rent ceilings when the federal agency died June 30.

Dewey directed the heads of the State Department of Insurance, Taxation, Commerce, Banking and the Public Service Commission and the Division of Unemployment Insurance to make the personnel available to McGoldrick.

They will confer with McGoldrick tomorrow morning at his new headquarters in New York city's Empire State Building for instructions and assignment to various O.P.A. rent control offices in the state.

The governor said the state liaison personnel were "on loan" from their own departments and all of them, except those from the Division of Unemployment Insurance, and week of watchful waiting for word from Washington as to whether Congress will pass a new O.P.A. law, that President Truman will sign.

The warning applied to all records that were required to be kept for O.P.A. purposes up to June 30 last, when the original O.P.A. law expired.

Director Herzog pointed out that the Emergency Price Control Act, the Stabilization Act, the Second War Powers Act, and the executive orders by President Truman requiring the keeping of the records for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action or prosecution.

The Albany O.P.A. office reported the following developments since expiration of price controls: There has been practically no general attempt to increase rents in the Albany district, already frozen by state law.

Supplies Are Short

Meat supplies remained almost as short as they have been for the last two weeks in Albany and nearby cities but larger supplies are promised this week-end.

Prices on foodstuffs and in restaurants, particularly in the resort areas in the Adirondacks were reported to have risen sharply over the three-day holiday week-end. Even prices on home-grown products were reported to have risen substantially.

Prices on all types of meat will be higher when adequate quantities are available in retail markets, but producers believe the top prices will be below what many consumers have been required to pay for inferior meat in the black market in recent weeks.

Russians Halt Sending Germans From Austria

Vienna, July 10 (AP)—Russian authorities were reported today to have halted their announced deportation of native Germans and other non-Austrians from the Soviet occupation zone of Vienna. No reason was given.

There was some speculation that the halt was merely temporary and was called because the camp at Meik, where the refugees are housed pending shipment to Germany, was filled.

The Russians announced the deportation—estimated to affect 30,000 to 54,000 persons—Sunday night.

Farrell Will Testify

Boston, July 10 (AP)—Lt. Thomas Farrell, 24-year-old decorated army flier, will take the witness stand so that the jury may know "the true situation," his counsel said, of a hotel room night when Farrell is charged with brandishing a 18-year-old typist, Helen Stavrou. Opening the defense in the 11-day-old trial of the veteran Pacific bombardier, Atty. Herbert F. Callahan told a superior court jury that Farrell would testify and added: "We expect to throw light on those incidents so you will know the true situation at the hotel."

Fifth Bakery Closes in City

or Dewey, U. S. Senator James M. Mead and Congressman Jay L. "Fever" calling their attention to the acute bread situation in Kingston, and requesting their assistance in having supplies forwarded here.

Last night the mayor received a telegram from Senator Mead which reads: "Regarding your telegram urging Secretary of Agriculture to grant all possible relief to local bakers."

Local bakers have been expecting flour shipments for several weeks, but none has come through as yet.

Mr. Gruenewald said that he was keeping the fires going under his ovens and was ready to resume baking at a minute's notice as soon as flour was received.

All of the bakers for some time have been restricted in the amount of bread they could bake for the trade, and with this limited quota have been trying to meet the needs of the city's housewives.

The che is a Chinese musical instrument with 25 strings.

Reading Fair Will Reopen This Year

Reading, Pa., July 10—Plans are under way for the reopening of the Reading Fair, September 8 to 15 according to an announcement made here today by Charles W. Swyer, the fair secretary.

of reconversion already had begun on the 87-acre fairground in Muhlenberg township, just outside the Reading city limits. During the war years, the fairground was occupied by a Third Service Command Ordnance repair unit.

All the outstanding prewar attractions such as Grand Circuit horse racing, automotive thrill shows and AAA sanctioned big car auto racing are to be retained.

Among the innovations will be a beauty contest to determine "Miss Reading Fair of 1946." Competition will be restricted to Berks county girls who have reached the age of 18 years, and a cash prize of $1,000 will be awarded to the winner.

Norway's shipping industry is 1,500 years old.

Leaves From Boyle's
Notebook

(A German workman tells of the problems and hopes of Germany's laboring class today in another of a series of columns written for Hal Boyle by representative Germans.)

Berlin, July 10 (AP)—I don't believe it is possible that Germany will be rebuilt in my lifetime.

We haven't enough tools or materials to work with. Young men, particularly those with families, want to leave Germany for another country where we could have more of a chance to work.

Half the skilled workmen in the Reich would emigrate tomorrow if they were promised decent jobs elsewhere—in Canada, the United States or South America.

I am a plumber, married, with a seven-year-old daughter and a five-year-old boy. Before the war I had my own plumbing business. I had enough work and enough food. I was very content. I had no political interest. I still have none. I don't know whether democracy would be good or bad for Germany.

Because I had a heart ailment I was not called as a soldier but given a job in a war factory in South Silesia. When the Russians approached, the factory was moved to Berlin. I brought my family here, too, and we lost everything.

Prisoner Five Months
I was made a soldier three months before the war ended, and was kept prisoner by the Russians for five months. We were treated kindly, but there was little food.

When I returned to Berlin I found my wife had been compelled to spend all our savings while I was away. I went to work for the Americans because I could get more food.

I work for 48 hours a week and get for that 70 marks (seven dollars) and one meal a day. That would be enough wages except that I must pay 20 marks a week taxes.

That leaves only 50 marks. So my wife has to work as a charwoman. She earns 20 marks a week from which she pays three marks tax.

Pleased About Americans
We have a hard life, but we are much better off than those who don't work for the Americans.

We live in a little wooden house which has no light, no running water and no gas. To get wood for cooking my wife and I and the children go every evening and Sunday to the forest.

Our clothing situation is terrible. The children must wear wooden shoes. I have no savings of any kind left. But we are lucky to work for the Americans, because we get extra food.

Skilled workmen can find no jobs repairing homes of German civilians because there is no material. Therefore they must work at cleaning up rubble for 35 marks a week. This isn't enough for them to live on so they have to spend their spare time in the black market.

Our biggest fear—those of us who manage to find work at the trade we know—is that we will lose our jobs.

Because of the shortage of materials, the rebuilding of our country is very slow. If we had the materials there would be plenty of work for us all.

Our second biggest fear is inflation. That is a bad dream for everybody who works with his hands.

No Hopes For Future
I have no real hopes for the future for myself. I have no illusions there.

For Germany I hope only that we can get one government and that the eastern part of our country given to Poland will be returned to us. But I don't believe it.

My only other hope is for my children. I would like to earn enough to send them through school. They deserve a better life than I have had.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

Inman, Kas., July 10 (AP)—Mrs. O. P. Strousz, farmwife, makes every minute count during this busy harvest season.

She drove a truck of wheat to the elevator and peeled potatoes while waiting in line for her load to be dumped. Then, back home, she worked several minutes in her kitchen while the truck was being reloaded.

Mrs. Strousz said she hauled 15 loads of wheat while preparing one meal.

One in a Million
Lewiston, Idaho, July 10 (AP)—At least one landlord likes children.

Norman McLeod inserted this ad in the Lewiston Tribune:

"Modern house, four bedrooms. Will rent to family with minimum three children, $50 month. Four children, $45. Five children, $40."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harwick—and their four children—grabbed the offer. Said landlord McLeod:

"Reducing the rent $5 per child should at least pay for the milk."

Marinette, Wis., July 10 (AP)—Members of the Nick Butman household have been hunting for a missing key to the family car for the last several weeks.

It turned up yesterday in a letter from Holland. The writer, recipient of clothes donated to Europe's needy by the Butman family, wrote:

"Please find enclosed the key to your motor car. You will certainly have more use for it than we will."

Derwent Scores In 'Drums of Peace'

Mable-Mins Play Proves Good Vehicle for Noted Actor

Faithful "first nighters" who have seen Clarence Derwent in many of Broadway's leading plays were rewarded again last night at the Woodstock Playhouse in "Drums of Peace," by Edward Mable and Leonard Mins.

One cannot help but feel that the playwrights' premiere of their play set the mark of good fortune upon it. "Drums of Peace" is significant and it pulls no punches. It is both aggressive and prophetic and the conflict between a determined State Department administrator and the German and American "business as usual" care and war makers points up the problem facing Europe.

Mable and Mins have constructed good dialogue and their devices for dramatic emphasis keep the play moving rapidly and with interest. Topical points such as, "What now the Nazi? How about the industrial opportunists who deny Nazism? What faces countries bordering upon the Reich?" are covered adequately. The play will gain with successive performances. It is to the playwrights' credit that their opening night was so outstanding.

Clarence Derwent's characterization of Hugo Benckendorf is one of the best ever seen at the Playhouse and the admirable support given by the entire cast suggests another successful week for box office, thespian and theatre-goer.

Special congratulations are in order for Stephen Elliott as Richard Woodruff, State Department representative; Virginia Downing as Sophie von Gutzkow; Lois Clark as Elisabeth Jaeger; Robert Gill as Erich Jaeger; Houston Richards as Theodore Bruce; Alexander Ivo as Heinrich Lindau; and Robert Alvin as Capt. George Pave.

The role of Lt. Frank Daniels needs more direction and rewriting for the young officer's sage at the lack of a proper education program for Germany is unconvincing. Suddenly, without preface, he appears on the stage and delivers his lines. The effect of his part is almost amusing and it is thereby weakened. The officer at present is too much an "eager beaver."

"Drums of Peace" ends on a happy distasteful note. Womanhood is shown by Elisabeth Jaeger as sick of war and deceit and the need for constructive thinking and testing left by Richard Woodruff gives the final curtain strength and points a generally unimpaired way.

The play is directed by Mary Morris and the settings, good as usual, are by Albert Heschong.

Half of New Jersey's land is covered with forests.

Stamps IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

Iowa joins Texas on August 3 as the only states to have two postage stamps issued in their honor.

The Iowa Statehood Centennial stamp goes on sale that day at Iowa City. The Hawkeye state previously was honored in 1938 with a Territory Centennial commemorative.

The Post Office Department discarded its previously announced selection of the mural "Westward" as the design for the stamp, on the grounds that it was not suitable for reproduction. Instead, the forthcoming stamp will picture an outline map of the state with the state flag superimposed. Like the Texas Centennial stamp of last December, the stamp will be blue instead of the traditional purple usually used for three-cent denominations.

Iowa City, site of the first day sale, was the state's capital city from the date of its admission as a state December 18, 1846, until 1857, when Des Moines became the capital. The date of the first day's sale is the 100th anniversary of the date when residents of the Iowa Territory voted for a state constitution.

An initial printing of 125,000, 000 stamps has been ordered. Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send a maximum of 10 addressed covers to the postmaster at Iowa City with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed.

WHAT IT MEANS

Veterans' Right to Work

By BRACK CURRY

Washington—Many thorny legal questions involving veterans' re-employment rights still must be settled in courts despite the Supreme Court's decision on the so-called seniority question.

Searcy L. Johnson, chief of the Justice Department's Veterans Affairs Section, says the decision "does not determine rights of veterans because all of the rights were not involved in the case."

The Justice Department represents veterans free of charge in reemployment cases.

In the seniority question, the Supreme Court held that World War II veterans have no preferential seniority standing for one year's full reemployment over non-veterans when there are contrary seniority provisions in a union contract.

The court did hold that veterans accumulated seniority during their period of service which must be added to seniority they held on entering service.

Some Problems Remain

What are the problems which still must be clarified? Johnson lists six examples:

1. To whom does the Selective Service statute, guaranteeing veterans reemployment rights, apply?

2. What is a "temporary" position and what are the legal rights of a "seasonal" or "part-time" employee?

3. What is to be done when the veterans old job has been abolished or changed?

4. What would be proper damages for a court to assess when a veteran is denied reemployment?

5. How must the veteran prove his qualification for his old duties?

6. If the employer has transferred or sold his business, what are the veterans legal rights to his old job?

Some of these questions already are headed for the Supreme Court. Johnson says Attorney General Tom Clark "takes the position as the veterans' lawyer that all reasonable doubts should be resolved in favor of veterans' rights. In this he follows the working of the Selective Service statute."

"Likewise, the Supreme Court in the Fisgold (seniority) case said the statute had to be liberally construed in favor of the veteran."

Concluded in Point

Johnson cited a court case to illustrate problem No. 1 for me.

abolished, the Justice Department holds that "if a comparable position exists he must have it," Johnson says. "The act holds that he must receive his old job or one of like seniority and pay."

About Damages

Johnson says the department contends that: "When a veteran applies for his old job and doesn't get it, he must be paid until the time he starts work—and then retained for a full year. A Kentucky court recently upheld this contention, forcing a company to pay damages to a veteran up to the time they put him on and then give him a year's job."

What test must the veteran meet?

"We hold that he must be given a fair opportunity to reacquire his old skill, even if a more skillful man is on his job."

What if the employer has transferred or sold his business?

"We hold," Johnson says, "that the job continues to exist if the business continues. In a recent case in Ohio, a parent company took over a subsidiary company and refused to rehire a veteran. The court held that the business was being continued so the job was still there."

This case has been appealed to the Supreme Court.

THAT SENSELESS GUEST PRIZE!

Among certain American customs that are quaint, very few are annoying. Most prominent among these few (and, in my opinion, the least reasonable) is the occasional "guest prize." A reader tells me: "We have moved to a small town where it seems to be the general custom at parties to turn the bridge prizes over to the guest of honor. Every time I go to such a party I am nervous for fear I might win the prize for cards and not know what to do. As a general rule, people open the package and then give it to the guest of honor. I cannot feel that this is correct, but don't know whether it would be better to follow suit or to follow my feelings." As a newcomer, you can, of course, do nothing about the custom of the community. But really, I do think that the time has come when older residents should do something about banishing this altogether wrong guest prize. It is certainly the height of unfairness to invite friends to play for a prize which the winner does not win! Why anyone should be asked to play for it is something I cannot understand!

Goodbye Again at The Cragmoor Theatre

Beginning July 15

Allen Ludden, personal manager for Maurice Evans, will take a two-weeks' leave of absence from his duties to direct "Goodbye Again," which will open at The Cragmoor Theatre on Route 52 on Monday, July 15 and continuing for one week.

Replacing Major Evans as officer-in-charge of the entertainment section of the Pacific Ocean areas when Major Evans left to return to civilian life, Mr. Ludden produced 18 major productions, both musical and legitimate for the armed forces in the Pacific—as far out as Okinawa—during the war.

Morton DeCosta, managing director of the Cragmoor, will play the leading role of Bixby, successful author who stops at the Statler Hotel in Cleveland, where the action of the play takes place, while on a lecture tour. Nan McFarland, recently of "Hamlet" will be the author's secretary and Helene Ambrose, versatile Broadway actress, whose four previous appearances at The Cragmoor have been in widely divergent roles, will play "Julia," matron who returns from the lecturer's past to resume where she left off many years ago. Miss McFarland is currently playing "Mrs. Yoder" in "Papa Is All," now at this theatre.

The part of the indulgent husband of the aggressive woman will be taken by Richard Davies, and Beaumont Bruestle, also seen in each of three previous plays, will portray the lawyer who succeeds in complicating rather than straightening out the affairs of the married author.

Peggy Wynne, young ingenue, will appear with Mr. Bruestle as the lawyer's wife and Al Cadler, comedian, will have a funny part in the third act.

Alleged Car Thief Caught by Police Hunting Prowler

Acting Sergeant W. Krum Arrests Thomas Doyle Taken in Police Net Tuesday

Hunted by the police on a grand larceny charge since May 25, Thomas Doyle, Jr., 21 of 30 Sumner street, was caught in a police net, Tuesday afternoon, near the Benedictine Hospital.

The police concentrated on the path of brush in which Doyle was said to be hiding and closed in on him. Sergeant Krum recognized him as the man wanted on the grand larceny charge and placed Doyle under arrest.

Looks Different

Doyle was jailed and later Ray Van Buren, acting lieutenant, and finger-printed him and took a picture for the police files. A previous photo had been taken by the police, but the likeness was vague as Doyle had grown a mustache and light beard.

While serving in the marines, Doyle had been picked up by the Kingston police for being absent without leave.

Doyle's marine uniform led to the charge against him for the theft of the Raible car. Patrolmen looking for the auto, saw it stop at a service station, but when they approached to check, a youth crossed as a marine jumped out of the vehicle and ran away.

Ever since the incident last May 25, the police had been hunting for Doyle, who, they allege, stole the car.

How Arrest Developed

Yesterday at 4 p. m., another of a series of calls was sent in to the police that a suspicious character was loitering in the vicinity of the hospital.

A radio alarm sent from headquarters was received by Patrolmen Grover Hoffay and Joseph Myers in one of the prowler cars, and James Cullum on motorcycle patrol.

On his way to take part in the

Shadow of Another Veto Hovers Over New O.P.A. Bill

Washington, July 10 (AP)—The shadow of a possible second veto fell across the moribund O. P. A. today as a bi-partisan senate majority got set to ban any future ceilings on milk, butter and cheese.

Top-heavy with Republicans, this majority primed the dairy products exemption as a fresh onslaught against the administration's price control revival, already staggering under yesterday's 49 to 26 vote to keep ceilings off meat, poultry and eggs.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) gloomily conceded to newsmen that there was no chance of preventing the addition of dairy products to a control-free list that appeared likely to inspire a Presidential veto if finally approved by congress.

He added he couldn't be sure, either, of fending off amendments to put cottonseed, petroleum, tobacco and possibly some other products in the same classification.

Cottonseed was first up as the senate began the third day of debate on a measure Barkley and other sponsors had forecast the President would sign if they could provide its major provisions as it came from the Banking Committee.

The meat and poultry decision—carried by 31 Republicans and 18 southern and western Democrats—came on an amendment offered by Senator Wherry (R-Neb). The 25 Democrats and one Progressive who opposed it expected further setbacks.

Barkley Is Confident

But Barkley said he still is confident the trend will be reversed when the senate gets to what he regards as the even more important pricing provisions of the bill.

Senator Taft (D-Ohio) has proposed a return to the formula of the original O. P. A. measure under which manufacturers would be allowed price increases to meet average production cost gains in their industry since the July 1-15 period of 1940. Taft charged only the 1941 date of the provision to which Mr. Truman objected so strenuously in his veto.

Barkley hoped to beat that with a committee-approved amendment which Taft charged was "meaningless" because it had so many loopholes.

Plans Conference

The Democratic leader indicated that if he can win a victory on the pricing issue, he will take the patched up bill to a conference with house members, who so far have approved only a 20 day extension of O. P. A. in its present form. It was the house sustained President Truman's veto of the original extension bill.

Republicans thought that if Barkley lost in the battle with Taft, he might abandon any attempts to revive O. P. A. except for rent controls. They said such a result also was possible if the House ceilings on meat, poultry, eggs, dairy products and other commodities.

Senator Ball (R-Minn) and Millikin (R-Colo) told a reporter the majority of their mail suggests that O. P. A. be left a ghost agency, with only rent controls revived. If that happens, Ball said he will move for a 10 per cent blanket increase in rents.

Before it can get to a final vote on the revival bill, the senate faced the necessity of disposing of a preliminary block thrown by Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex), bitter O. P. A. foe.

O'Daniel Pulls Out Amendment

O'Daniel pulled out of his pocket a proposed amendment which would establish a permanent fair employment practice commission, a move previously approved by the House.

The Texan told his colleagues frankly his only objective was to kill both the F.E.P.C. and O. P. A. in a single stroke. Since F.E.P.C. always generates a southern filibuster, he said he figured it might provoke extensive talk if offered to the price control measure.

But a maneuver seemed likely to make little headway. Taft told a reporter "a motion, probably would be made to table the F.E.P.C. to vote on an indirect question."

Barkley said he thought such a motion would carry.

The vote on the Wherry meat-poultry-egg exemption came with dramatic suddenness yesterday after Taft had enlivened debate with the contention that O. P. A. had been breaking the law by spending government money for propaganda designed to bring pressure to bear on congress.

was explained to May that this was in connection with a cut-back in army orders.

On March 24, 1945 May telephoned Patterson, "making inquiries as to the possibilities of an award to the Bateria company. Two days later Patterson forwarded to the award board the Ordnance Department's recommendation that the award be made, together with his own comment that "my sole desire is to have this nomination considered on its merits." Until that time the award had been withheld because of controversy over Bateria's use of labor, but on April 19, 1945, the secretary wrote May, informing him the award had been granted.

All Payments Frozen

A few days after Patterson had frozen all payments to the Erie Basin Metal Products Company on September 6, 1945, to assure government recovery of surplus profits, he went to May's office at the latter's request. There he met two men, whose names he could not recall, who protested that the order would "prevent them from getting into civilian production."

The secretary testified that he took no action other than to refer the two men to Col. Maurice Hirsch of the General Staff Corps.

Patterson emphatically denied that he had done anyone any favors, asserting "I am not in the business of doing favors for anyone."

Earlier Army renegotiation officials had testified that the order freezing Erie payments was modified one week after its issuance, the modification having the effect of releasing $723,000 of government funds to the contractors.

Paynter's appearance on the stand grew out of a telegram to a Washington newspaper, signed "Henry Paynter," which said Secretary Patterson was in possession of telephone conversations in which President Truman, Senator Mead and Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) had intervened with the War Department on behalf of contractors.

After Patterson had denied possession of such recordings, Paynter, a husky, be-mustached former newspaper man, took the stand to deny authorship or any form of responsibility for the telegram.

France sent out invitations to the various nations to attend the peace conference.

The Council, with but one minor modification, approved the proposed rules of procedure for the peace conference, drafted by the deputy ministers.

The Ministers also approved, with one slight change, a draft by their deputies on Italian reparations.

Molotov raised the question of whether Russia would receive $100,000,000 in reparations from Germany, claiming that this amount had been promised at Yalta. Byrnes replied that the figure had been mentioned at Yalta only as a basis of discussion, and that Molotov was aware of that fact.

Hoover Four Is Hit By Soviet Newspaper

Moscow, July 10 (AP)—Izvestia declared today that the United States and Britain had employed U.N.R.R.A. food to exert "political pressure" on countries aided, and charged that the purpose of Herbert Hoover's recent world-circling famine tour was to spread "anti-Soviet propaganda."

The government newspaper, in an article written by S. Gorodetsky, also quoted "foreign progressive circles" as saying that reactionaries in Britain and the United States were using Russia as a means of "political blackmail."

This so-called "blackmail" was compared with what was described as "atomic politics" in the United States.

The article said that "specific circles" in the western nations were "striving to use the help (U.N.R.R.A.) campaign for far-reaching economic and especially political purposes."

"These aims have little relation to the love of human beings, but are directly connected with the aggressive side of politics," Izvestia said.

Hoover's tour was described as "a clear illustration of the political aims pursued by reactionary circles in America and England in the realm of foodstuffs and supplies."

The newspaper said the tour was "for anti-Democratic, anti-Communist, anti-Soviet propaganda."

'Shelters for Criminals'

Moscow, July 10 (AP)—The Communist Party Newspaper Pravda asserted today that the "American and English occupation zones of Germany have become shelters for criminals and Hitlerite offsprings."

Can't See Reduction

Washington, July 10 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the House Military Committee today he could "see no possibility" in the next 15 to 20 years of reducing the army below a strength of 500,000 officers and enlisted men. Urging prompt approval of legislation to permit the appointment of 25,000 additional regular army officers, the chief of staff visualized a peacetime army of 400,000 for the air forces and 400,000 for supporting forces.

Hemmerick Gets Prison Sentence For Taking Auto

Second Offender Will Go to Dannemora; Other Cases Come Before County Court

Joseph Patrick Hemmerick, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny, second degree, growing out of the taking of a motor car, was sentenced to a term of from 2 1/2 to 3 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora this morning by County Judge John M. Cashin. Raymond Mino appeared for the defendant by assignment.

Hemmerick appeared before the court for sentence and was charged by information filed by District Attorney Louis Bruhn with being a second offender in that on January 30, 1929 in the county of Bronx he was convicted and sentenced for robbery, second degree. The sentence at that time imposed was 3 to 15 years in prison. Hemmerick admitted he was the same person so convicted and thus came before Judge Cashin as a second offender which made mandatory the 2 1/2 to 3 year term now. Mr. Mino stated that at the time Hemmerick took the vehicle involved, he was under the influence of liquor.

The case of Herman Bronson, town of Marlborough, was put over the term on motion of Francis Martocci and bail was fixed at $250 cash or $500 property. Bronson is charged with having resisted arrest and assault. District Attorney Louis Bruhn consented to the case going over the term.

Peterson Time Served

James Peterson of Marlborough through his counsel Raymond Mino changed a former not guilty plea to one of guilty to the second count of the indictment, unlawful entry. He had been indicted for burglary growing out of a southern Ulster chicken stealing case in which several were involved.

Peterson waived the usual 48 hour period and asked to be sentenced immediately. He had served 63 days in the county jail while waiting trial and Judge Cashin imposed that sentence which permitted Peterson to go out today with his time served. Mr. Mino pointed out that Peterson had served in World War 2 and held a honorable discharge. He was A.W.O.L. while in service and served a considerable time in disciplinary barracks on a charge of desertion but made good after that and was given an honorable discharge. Peterson told Judge Cashin that he was not involved in the chicken stealing and did not even have some of the chicken to eat. He said he had been working the night of the chicken stealing at the shipyard in Newburgh but was caught next day by troopers with the party who had been involved. Peterson's record shows that while he was A.W.O.L. from the army he had sought employment and had worked at the Newburgh shipyards.

The term of court was brought to an end when Judge Cashin adjourned the term to chambers.

Quinn Leads Billows

Ulster, N. Y., July 10 (AP)—Bernard Quinn of Watertown, virtually unknown in state golfing circles, held a one up lead on defending champion Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie at the end of the first nine holes in a first round match of the State Amateur Championship today. Quinn, who qualified yesterday with an eight-over-par 78, and Billows, a times winner of the state crown, fought a close, tough match on the outgoing nine. They did not announce their stroke scores. Billows, who posted a 75 in the qualifying round, is a favorite to retain the title.

Two Local Boxers to Make Ring Debuts Here Thursday Night; Cubans Here Tonight, Kansas City Monarchs Follow Saturday

Local Club Signs New Pitcher for Tonight's Contest

Warren Muller, Winner of 18 With Hartford Senators in 1944, Gets First Chance

The Kingston Recreations will start from scratch tonight at municipal stadium in their scheduled arelight clash with the highly-touted New York Cubans. The Cubans appeared here several weeks ago and dropped an abbreviated 5 to 4 decision to the locals. Game time is slated for 9 o'clock sharp.

After absorbing Monday's 11 to 0 shellacking at the hands of the Boston Braves the locals hope to get back on the winning road tonight at the expense of the Cubans. Kingston's extended six-game winning skid was snapped Monday night by the National Leaguers and although the Rec infield snapped at the seams as well, Manager Joe Hoffman is confident the club will have no ill effects.

"It was just a matter of our boys being too much on edge Monday night," Joe said this morning. "But I'm sure they'll get on the beam tonight and give stadium patrons plenty to cheer about."

New Hurler Tonight
In an effort to relieve some of the burdens which have been falling on Dick Fitzgerald and George Nicholas, the Kingston Recreations have signed a new hurler for tonight's game against the Cubans. Ed Coughlin, one of the club's officers, called The Freeman this morning and said that Warren Muller, pitcher for the Hartford Senators in 1944, would be on the hill for Kingston tonight. Muller won 18 games for Hartford two years ago in the Eastern League.

"We've signed Muller to our staff," Coughlin added, "because George Nicholas, who was slated to start tonight, needs some additional rest. George pitched out of turn Monday in that relief job against the Boston Braves and I'm sure he wouldn't be ready to go again against the hard-hitting Cubans." Muller will be opposed by either Luis Tiant or Ed Daniels. Tiant did a relief chore against the Recs earlier in the year and hurled good ball.

Monarchs Here Saturday
Another exciting exhibition scheduled for the uptown ball orchard Saturday night when the famous Kansas City Monarchs, perennial champions of the Negro American League, appear here. Last Sunday at the Yankee Stadium in New York the Monarchs lost a tough 4 to 3 game in 10 innings to the Black Yankees before 15,000 fans.

Manager Frank Duncan rates this year's club considerably better than his championship teams of 1941 and 1942. Ted Strong, Willard Brown, Buck O'Neill, Ford Smith and Jim Greene supply the club with power hitting and in game after game rival pitchers are forced to be careful with their

WILLARD BROWN

One of the heaviest hitters with the Kansas City Monarchs this year is Willard Brown who patrols the centerfield pastures for the crack Negro American League club. Brown rates as the home run king of the Monarchs. He smashed out 13 round-trippers during this year's spring exhibition schedule, with one coming with the bags loaded. Brown and all of the other Kansas City stars will be at municipal stadium Saturday night in the arelight game against the Kingston Recreations.

When these players step to the platter, Brown is the home run king of the club and in 13 exhibition games this spring he rapped out 11 homers, one with the bases loaded. Brown cavorts around the centerfield slot for the Monarchs.

One of the chief reasons for the early success of the K.C.'s in winning 12 straight in the N.A.L. is the brilliant mound work of Cliff Johnson, Todd Alexander, Hilton Smith, Ford Smith, Allen Bryant and Jim LaMarque. Johnson led the loop in strikeouts four years ago and threatens to repeat this year. Hilton Smith is enjoying his 10th year with the Monarchs and has always been a dependable twirler. Another hurler on the staff is Enslow Wylie who has chucked a couple of league wins so far.

Monarchs' Starting Lineups
Kingston's second biggest attraction of the 1946 campaign is scheduled for Saturday night, July 20, when Jimmy "Ripper" Collins and his Albany Senators of the Eastern League play here. The Senators are currently in second place in the E.L. and have a well-balanced club. Albany is a farm team of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Earlier this year the Senators sent up rookie Ralph Kiner to the Pirates and the young outfielder has been coming through in fine style for the National League team.

Dream Game Proves Nightmare For National League Stars

Senior Loopers Thankful Williams, Newhouse Won't Be on Same Club in Series

Boston, July 10 (AP)—The National League could be thankful today that it won't have to face both Ted Williams and Hal Newhouse in the 1946 baseball world series.

That was the only consolation the senior circuiters got out of the annual inter-league all-star game yesterday when American League's superior pitching and overwhelmingly more powerful hitting crushed the National Leaguers under a 12 to 0 score.

Both Use 21 Men
Both sides used 21 players in the so-called dream game—a nightmare for the Nationals—yet it was the performances of Detroit's great pitcher, Newhouse, and the Boston Red Sox's mighty batter, Williams, which stood out in the most lopsided victory and gave the Americans a 9-4 lead in games in the 13 years of the series.

Williams easily was the more outstanding of the two. In five trips to the plate against the best but hopeless efforts of four National pitchers, tall Ted collected four hits—two homers and a brace of singles—and a walk. He scored four runs and batted in five.

Cleveland's Bob Feller had the Nationals pretty well tamed by the time Newhouse relieved him after the third inning, following Manager Steve O'Neill's pre-game plan for the star twirlers.

Feller yielded singles to Walker Cooper and Johnny Hopp. Newhouse was even more effective than the illustrious Clevelander. He fanned four and gave up one hit—a single by Peanuts Lowrey of the Chicago Cubs, for the Nationals' third and last hit in the game. Jack Kramer of the St. Louis Browns pitched hitless ball the last three innings, but gave the only walk of the game insofar as American pitching was concerned.

By comparison, four National pitchers—Claude Passeau, of Chicago; Kirby Higbe, of Brooklyn; Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati; and Rip Sewell of Pittsburgh, were shellacked for 14 hits, and yielded four walks.

Ted Is Big Hero

Williams, of course, grabbed the headlines because he hit four home runs in the game. He was the only player to hit a home run in the game. He was the only player to hit a home run in the game.

Williams powered it into the rightfield bullpen for a homer. Earlier in the inning, Philadelphia's Sam Chapman had driven in Snuffy Stirnweiss from third with a long fly.

The game was a success from the American League's standpoint and the Baseball Welfare Fund, Inc., for which the annual classic is played. However, a portion of yesterday's receipts was donated to the families of the nine Spokane, Wash., baseball players killed in a bus accident recently.

The Americans picked up another run on Williams' 420-foot smash off Higbe into the centerfield bleachers in the fourth, and then they climbed all over the Dodger pitcher, collecting four hits and three runs before he was removed by Manager Charlie Grimm.

Blackwell Also Victim
Blackwell became a victim of the Americans' slugging in the seventh when he was nipped for two runs when Williams singled. Keller walked and Joe Gordon drove the ball against the left field wall for a double.

With the Americans leading 8 to 0, Sewell took over the National pitching labors in the eighth. Famed for his "blooper" ball, Sewell lobbed one of his specialties at Williams with two on base and in baseball ever to win the slugging championship of the National League. He won this honor in 1934, the same year he tied Mel Ott of the New York Giants for the home run championship. Both Collins and Ott parked out 35 homers apiece.

There have been reports that Collins might succeed Fordham Frankie Frisch as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates next year, but the "Ripper" laughs them off.

Albany, which is the farm club of the Pirates, will have the following players at the stadium July 20, Collins announced:

Pitchers—Orie Arntzen, Chuck Hawley, George Estock, Woody Crowson, Frank Martin, Pete Gebrian, Royce Lint, Russ Needham, Sal Cuttita, and Fred Clemence. All except Lint are right-handers.

Catchers—Ed St. Claire and Chet Zembra.
Infielders—Manager Collins, Gene Carolan, Eddie Liep, Tommy Webster, Carl Cox and Vic Barnhart.

Outfielders—Bill Rodgers, Bill Luzanski, Lloyd Randol and Clark Henry.

DeGroat, Verhoek Ready for Initial Appearances Here

Interest in Second Big Outdoor Boxing Show at Uptown Stadium Presages Crowd

Aside from their interest in the featured bouts on the B'nai B'rith boxing card in the municipal stadium, Thursday night, local ring fans seem enthused over the debut of two local boys, Bobby DeGroat and Willem Verhoek.

De Groat, 140, making his first start in the ring, is matched with Johnny Chaplain of Albany, another novice. Bobby, who has been training for a month at the Moose gym, is anxious to chalk up a victory.

"I think he has good prospects," Kid Chappie told a reporter. The former local favorite has been training De Groat for a month. "Although Bobby hasn't had a match, he can't be considered strictly 'green' Chappie advised, "because he's had plenty of experience in the gym."

"I'm going out to do my best, and hope I win," De Groat said.

Verhoek Packs Wallop
Willem Verhoek, 148, the Rotterdam, Holland, boy, who has been in the United States eight months, will enter the ring against Jimmy Harrison of Albany, packing a knockout wallop. He proved he could punch by stopping Wesley Finch of Highland in Newburgh last week.

For two rounds, Verhoek looked like an experienced ringman, although it was his first fight, by out-boxing his opponent. Then in 55 seconds of the third round he finished him off with a right hand punch, packed with dynamite.

"I like the sport and will do my best," Verhoek remarked. The other preliminary on the card will pit Garry Vann, 118, Poughkeepsie, against Sammy Spadaro, 115, of Albany.

Marlos in Feature
In the features, all billed for five rounds, the famous Mario twins, Joe, 136, and Jimmy, 145, Albany Diamond Belt winners, will oppose Ashton Taylor and Clarence Alleyne, respectively, New York Golden Gloves champions.

Starting time of the first scrap is 9 o'clock. Scoring four in the fifth and three more in the seventh, the First Presbyterian softball team registered an 8 to 3 victory over the First Baptists Tuesday night in the opening game of the second round schedule of the Men's Federation Softball League at Hasbrouck Park.

Going into the fifth, the Baptists, with Al Hunt hurling, held a 3 to 1 margin but then the fireworks started. The Presbys reached Al and Bob Hunt for a total of 11 hits while the Baptists were limited to five by Harold "Chicken" Smith. The winners committed four errors. Smith himself paced the winners in the hit column with three in four trips.

Doug Harvey of the Baptists slammed the only home run of the game in the fourth when he drove one over the right field bank.

Form Coughlin Collects
Three Hits in Four Trips to Platter at Uptown Park

With Bob Bush pitching a neat seven hitter the Chez Emile nine scored its third victory in six games in City League competition last night at municipal stadium over the New York Centrals by the score of 12 to 6. Bush, after a shaky second inning when the Centrals scored four runs, hurled even ball and struck out seven. He issued two passes. W. Brown went all the way for the losers and gave up 11 hits. He fanned three and walked six.

After the Centrals nicked Bush for a single marker in the first, the Chez Emile club bounced back for three in the second and three more in the third. In these two frames they collected six runs on only three hits, four walks, three fielder's choices and a couple of boos. Form Coughlin, who was the batting star in the game with three hits, was the big factor, getting a double. Coughlin batted first safely every time he batted.

The Centrals picked up four runs in the bottom half of the second on four hits, a walk, a fielder's choice and two errors. The winners scored another marker in the fourth on singles by Hughes and Lindhurst along with a wild pitch by Brown. They also came back for four more runs in the fifth with singles by Coughlin and Hughes, two walks and a double by Bartoff. The final run came across in the sixth on singles by Coughlin, Vertetis and Joe Mahar.

A single by Wolf, a walk to Lewis and a wild pitch enabled the losers to tally one lone marker in the seventh.

Bob Feller Plans Post-Season Tour Of Picked Players

Indian Ace Tentatively Lines Up All-Stars of Majors and Nation's Top Negro Players

New York, July 10 (AP)—Plans for a post-season exhibition tour with an all-star squad from both Major Leagues facing a picked team of the nation's finest Negro ball players were announced today by Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' hurling ace.

Feller said he tentatively had lined up a cast of the Majors' top performers. In addition to the Indian fireballer, the mound corps will include Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers, Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler of the New York Yankees and Jack Kramer of the St. Louis Browns.

Infelders slated for action are Ken Keltner of Cleveland; first baseman Mickey Vernon of Washington; shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees; shortstop Eddie Lake of the Tigers and Jerry Priddy, Washington second baseman.

The proposed outfield would have Charlie Keller of the Yankees, Jeff Heath of the Browns, Sam Chapman of the Philadelphia Athletics and Stan Spence of Washington.

Walker Cooper of the New York Giants and Rollie Hemsey, Feller's old battery mate now with the Philadelphia Phillies, are the probable catchers.

Feller said most of the players have agreed to the tour but some still need permission of their club officials.

Three of the dusky aces who will oppose the all-star aggregation are Leroy (Satchel) Paige, long considered one of the top pitchers in baseball; Jackie Robinson, first baseman now with Montreal of the International League and Josh Olson, catcher noted for his great arm.

The proposed transcontinental tour would open in Cleveland on one of the first three days in October. Feller said the group probably would visit 16 other cities, including Chicago, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Omaha, Kansas City, Louisville, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Baltimore and Oakland.

Better Golf

3. Clubhead faces are lofted to impart to the ball the flight that is most efficient for the particular distance desired. Of the irons, the No. 5 irons is the middle club in loft. You position the less lofted clubs, about one inch left of center, progressively for each club.

Club more lofted than No. 5 you position about one inch right of center, progressively for each club. But because our pictured player is swinging with a No. 1 or No. 2 wood, he places the ball about three inches left of center.

The reason for this is that with the straighter-faced clubs the most desirable flight and distance is secured by having the clubhead take the ball after the clubhead has passed the low point in the arc of the swing. The blow so delivered to the ball gives overspin to the ball so that at the far end of its flight, when the ball hits the ground, the overspin will cause the ball to run and give additional yardage. With highly lofted clubs the club face must contact the ball on the downswing before the clubhead reaches the lowest point in the arc of the swing. This is necessary to yield the correct flight and distance desired.

Southworth, Jr., Honored at Rome

Tribute Made to Late Son of Braves' Manager

Rome, N. Y., July 10 (AP)—A bronze plaque on the playing field where he once won the "most valuable player" award of the Canadian-American League honors the memory of Lt. Col. William Southworth, Jr.

The plaque was unveiled last night in a ceremony attended by Manager Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves, father of the former Rome outfielder. Billy, Jr., ter Dougherty and Robert Blume, judges for boys. Ruth Hutton was clerk of course.

Mayor John C. Schantz of Rome dedicated the plaque, which will be mounted on a granite block as a permanent memorial.

The Boston Braves defeated the Rome Colonels in an exhibition game 15 to 7.

Tobin Will Request Reprieve for Noxon

Boston, July 10 (AP)—Governor Maurice J. Tobin today will recommend to his executive council a reprieve until August 15 for John F. Noxon, Jr., wealthy Pittsfield corporation lawyer, convicted of the electrocution murder of his mentally deficient infant son.

The chief executive said he would propose the reprieve "in order that reports may be drawn up by the Attorney General, the Department of Correction and the District Attorney of Berkshire county."

Noxon, who lost his last appeal to the courts Monday, is scheduled to die in the electric chair within 30 days. When informed by State Prison Warden Francis J. W. Lanagan that the court had ordered his electrocution, the 49-year-old Noxon replied: "Thank you for telling me. I expected it."

He then turned to reading a history book—his principal relaxation during the two years he has spent in state prison "death row" while his appeal was before the courts. Noxon maintained during trial

Figures Conflict In Mexico Voting

Unofficial Returns Claim
Election for 2 Men

Mexico City, July 10 (AP)—Mexico's two principal political parties released conflicting election figures today in claiming victory for their respective candidates in Sunday's presidential elections.

The government (P.R.I.) party said Miguel Aleman, former secretary of the interior, had been elected president by an overwhelming majority. P.R.I. election figures from 18 of Mexico's 28 states gave Aleman 1,124,396 votes to only 171,922 for Ezequiel Padilla, candidate of the Mexican Democratic party (P.D.M.).

The P.D.M., however, said returns from 34 scattered cities gave Padilla 107,949 votes, against only 35,277 for Aleman.

Official results are expected to be announced tomorrow. P.R.I. said that charges of fraud made by P.D.M. were an effort to explain Padilla's defeat.

Stiff Competition To Help in Clothes

Small Believes Rivalry
Will Curb Prices

Washington, July 10 (AP)—Sniping the last price control threat on clothing, the government today pinned its inexpensive garment hopes on industry competition.

In cutting the threat, Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small expressed the belief that rivalry among clothing manufacturers will serve to hold their prices in line.

The only clothing price curb left after O.P.A. died July 1 was knocked out last night when Small said that C.P.A. would continue to allocate a big supply of cloth for garments that should sell at low or moderate prices—but the agency no longer will see that they do.

Traffic Surveys Upstate Are Termed 'Successful'

Albany, N. Y., July 10 (AP)—Traffic surveys conducted in three upstate cities to secure data needed for state financed arterial highway construction were termed successful today by state and local officials.

The surveys, three in a series sponsored by the State Department of Public Works, were made yesterday in Schenectady, Rochester and the triple cities, Binghamton, Johnson City and Endicott.

P. S. McCarran, assistant district engineer, reported that more than 50,000 questionnaires were given out in the triple cities area by 130 state troopers, city policemen and public works employees.

Calling the survey a "great success," McCarran said there were no traffic tieups, but noted congestion on various bridges in the late afternoon.

Statistics on the three surveys will not become available until survey cards given to motorists are mailed back.

A similar survey was conducted in Buffalo last March. Other surveys are scheduled this week in Syracuse, Poughkeepsie and Baitavia.

BOY SCOUT NEWS
Camp a Great Success
After a week's use, the new Scout Camp at East Jewett has proven its worth in contentment and the desire on the part of the Scouts to stay longer. During the first week there were 26 Scouts in camp and only two checked out at the end of the week because it was necessary for them to return to their work. This week there are 44 Scouts in camp and most of them have made plans to remain for additional weeks.

The first council camp fire was held Saturday evening at which time Honor Campers awards were presented to George Blake and Gilbert Gardner both of Troop 44, Catskill. Walter Tremper of Kingston was presented with the same award in recognition of the many hours of work he has done in helping get the camp ready for use. The Honor Award is a pecker chief slide with a large "1" on it signifying that the camper has been at camp the first time it has been used as a Scout camp.

To date, there has been no homesickness among the Scouts and this is indeed very unusual, and perhaps the reason there has not been homesickness is that a full daily program is followed and the Scouts are under the direction of two experienced scoutmasters, Don Kromper and Bob Tremper, both of Kingston. There is considerable advancement being made in Scout ranks and at the first camp fire Peter Dwyer of Troop 3 Kingston was recognized as a Star Scout, Francis Gallo and Albert Wilklow, both of Highland, were awarded their First Class rank, Christy Kallas of Troop 70 Highland received his Second Class award.

On Thursday the entire Camp hiked to the top of Black Dome Mountain and cooked their dinner with the materials they were able to make on the spot. The Scouts had an excellent opportunity to view a mother bear and her little cub at a safe distance and what was thought to have been a moose track developed into the track of a stray cow. On Friday the Scouts put on an aquatic exhibition and the waterfront director, Jack Reid of New Paltz, demonstrated the proper ways of handling swamped canoes and boats. Sunday the picnic and parking areas were taxed by the influx of visitors, many of whom came early enough to participate in the church services at camp. Next Saturday the Scouts of the camp will play hosts to their neighbors, the members of the Outpost Club.

A survey of the campers shows that at last a satisfactory camp is available to the Scouts of the Ulster-Greene Council.
